Dr. T. Dileep Kumar
President, Indian Nursing Council

Dear Dr. Kumar,

The Johns Hopkins School of Nursing faculty and students are deeply distressed to witness from afar the devastating impact of the Covid-19 pandemic on India. We stand in solidarity with the brave and exceptionally hard working nurses who are providing essential care under the extreme demands of an extraordinarily challenging time for your country and health care system.

Please know that we applaud the heroic efforts of the nurses in India and the Johns Hopkins University and School of Nursing is rallying multi-level action to lend support in every way we can. We send our very best to you and your family and colleagues during this distressing time and pray the acuity will abate there soon.

Best regards,
